

Guide to your end of lease options

We appreciate your business!

Thank you for choosing U.S. Bank for your automotive lease needs. When your lease nears maturity, you'll begin thinking about your options and responsibilities at the end of your lease. This guide is meant to help you through the entire process.

Your options

Purchase or trade the leased vehicle from U.S. Bank or return the leased vehicle to U.S. Bank.

Option 1: Purchase or trade the leased vehicle.

You may choose to purchase or trade your leased vehicle. If you elect to purchase or trade the vehicle, excess wear and mileage charges will not apply. If you purchase the vehicle at the end of lease, the payoff amount will be equal to the Purchase Option Price listed on your lease contract, plus applicable taxes, fees, and any other outstanding amounts. This price is only available to you, the lessee. Plus, we may be able to help with the financing. Call 866-250-3147 for specific pricing information and to apply for a loan today. If you wish to use this vehicle as part of a trade on a new vehicle, the dealer must call us at 866-250-3148 for pricing information.

Option 2: Return the leased vehicle.

At the end of your lease, you may return the vehicle to the dealership. Please contact the dealership ahead of time to make arrangements to drop off the vehicle. Once the arrangements have been made, please contact us at 866-250-3147 to let us know your intentions.

Note: Approximately 60 days prior to the end of your lease, an independent inspection company will be contacting you to set up an appointment for a free vehicle inspection. This is offered to you free of charge so you have the opportunity to review any damage you may be charged upon return of the vehicle. If the inspection is not completed before the vehicle is returned, subject to any appraisal rights you may have, we will conduct an inspection for excess wear and use after the vehicle is returned. No one from the return location is authorized by us to conduct an inspection to determine excess wear and use under your lease. No statement, verbal or written, made by anyone from the return location with regard to the condition of the vehicle will be binding or may be relied upon for any purpose.

Excess mileage and wear

Mileage

Your allowable mileage was determined at the beginning of the lease. Excess mileage will be charged a per-mile fee in accordance with your lease agreement.

Wear

U.S. Bank offers a free inspection to help you understand what damage you may be charged for at the end of your lease. Normal wear can include a few small door dings, chips or scratches. Excess wear may include items such as dents, cracks in glass, torn upholstery or poor quality repairs.

Avoid the charges

If you have the inspection completed prior to the end of your lease, you may have time to repair the damages and avoid the charges. The repairs should be completed by an auto body shop or mechanic's shop. If you choose to have this done, please keep your receipts, and make sure you contact us to let us know these repairs have been completed.

Windshields cracked and chipped

- Two chips less than or equal to 1/4" in diameter, not in the driver's line of sight

Tires

Tire tread must be 4/32" or greater. Use the blue edge on the back cover of this guide to determine if the tire tread meets our requirements by placing the edge in the lowest tread on the tire. If the blue line is covered, the tread should be acceptable.

Wheels

Two scratches that are less than 3" on a wheel may be considered normal, however any scratches greater than 3" would be considered excessive. The photo to the left shows excessive scratches on the wheels.

Minor scratches

A few small scratches are normal and acceptable on a used vehicle and would not be considered excess wear.

Excess scratches

Multiple scratches or scratches that break the paint would be considered excess wear.
