We have been long term customers. We live in Eastgate and between business' and personal accounts we have multiple checking accounts, a line of credit, car loans, a joint credit card etc and I have been increasingly disappointed in the service over the last few years. Now for the past 3 days our branch has been closed – no message on the machine to reflect as such, no signage on the doors or anything. This is completely ridiculous. If the employees there are sick and can not work then upper management should be filling in for your customers to make sure people have access to their money without having to drive across town to another location. We just opened an account at Park National and at the credit union and if we find we get better service there I will be switching our business accounts as well.
