You have the right, subject to certain exceptions defined in the CPRA and other applicable laws and regulations, to request that U.S. Bank disclose certain information to you about our collection and use of your personal information over the past 12 months. Once we receive and confirm your verifiable consumer request, we will disclose to you:

- The categories of personal information we collected about you.
- The categories of sources for the personal information we collected about you.
- The business or commercial purpose for collecting, selling, or sharing the personal information.
- The categories of third parties with whom we disclose that personal information.

Right to Request Deletion

You have the right, subject to certain exceptions defined in the CPRA and other applicable laws and regulations, to request that U.S. Bank delete any of your personal information that we collected from you and retained. Once we receive and confirm your verifiable consumer request we will delete (and direct the recipients of your personal information to delete) your personal information from our records.

Right to Correct Your Personal Information

Please note the following right is effective January 1, 2023.

Right to Opt-out of Sharing or Selling

Please note the following right is effective January 1, 2023.

We use technologies such as cookies, pixel tags, web beacons, and other similar technologies, that gather information on our website. That information is used for a variety of purposes, such as to understand how visitors interact with our websites, or to serve advertisements on our websites or on other websites. The use of technologies, such as cookies, constitutes a ‘share’ or ‘sale’ of personal information under the CPRA. You can stop the use of certain third-party tracking technologies that are not considered our service providers by clicking the “Opt-Out” button below or by clicking on “Your California Privacy Choices” at the bottom of usbank.com. Note that due to technological limitations, if you visit our website from a different computer or device, or clear cookies on your browser that store your preferences, you will need to return to this screen to opt-out and/or rebroadcast the signal.

An opt-out preference signal is a signal that is sent by a platform, technology, or mechanism on your behalf that communicates your choice to opt-out of the sharing for targeted advertisements or sale of your personal information. You can learn more about implementing opt-out preference signals by visiting the Global Privacy Control website here or by exploring other developing technologies and services that offer this tool.

- Please complete the Personal Information Request Form. This form allows you to request the details of the personal information that U.S. Bank has about you and to request access to that information. Once received, U.S. Bank must use reasonable methods to verify the identity of the requestor before responding. If we cannot verify the requestor, we will either deny the request or ask for additional identifying information. U.S. Bank will respond within 45 days of the request unless additional time is required.
If you are a U.S. Bank customer, you can log in to online banking. You can locate the “Request for personal information” link within the Self service area under Customer service.

Or call us at 1-800-370-8580.

Requests by Authorized Agents

You may exercise your privacy rights through an authorized agent. If we receive your request from an authorized agent, we may ask for evidence that you have provided such agent with a power of attorney or that the agent otherwise has valid written authority to submit requests to exercise rights on your behalf.
